

FLAIL FOR ALLIES

Lansing Completing Note While Wilson Waits on Kaiser.

Great Mass of Data to Show How Shippers Suffer.

PEACE MOVEMENT IS GROWING

Well Defined Plan Designed to End Great War.

Suggestions to Stop Strife No Longer Spurned.

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.

Washington, June 14.—While President Wilson "marks time" waiting for the receipt of the German reply to his latest demand, the state department will complete compilation of the data for the proposed note to the allies.

Already a great mass of information showing just how American trade is being hampered is on file. Chandler Anderson, who is acting as counsel for the department, has been looking into the situation for several weeks. He has prepared a record which shows that not only have American cargoes been detained, although plainly destined to neutral countries, but that even when released the owners have sustained losses for which there is no chance of their being compensated.

It is not likely that this note will be finished until Germany's reply is received.

One Thing at a Time.

The president has emphatically declared for one thing at a time. Inasmuch, however, as it is admitted that the data for the note have nearly all been compiled, officials see in this admission a reflection of the American confidence that the German situation is very greatly improved.

Advices from Berlin indicate that there has been a radical change in the sentiment of German leaders toward the United States. When the last note was sent a majority of the officials were opposed to any concessions. The contrary is declared to be the case at present. The only group which is not quoted as favoring an agreement to prevent further misunderstanding is the small group surrounding Grand Admiral von Tirpitz.

To Urge Concessions.

Reports here say that when the new reply to the American rejoinder is completed, both the imperial chancellor and the foreign minister will urge the Kaiser to make concessions to the United States.

Officials here continue to believe also that within the next few weeks a well defined, general peace movement will be found under way. Just where it is to be instituted no one here seems to know, but it is declared there are under cover indications showing that peace suggestions are no longer falling on deaf ears.

POLICE PICKINGS

Weekend Vags, Drunks and "Dopes" in Court.

Charge That 17-Year-Old Youth Assaulted Aged Man.

JUDGE YATES ON PRISON LIFE

Police Raid Alleged Opium Joint on Madison Street.

Other Gossip From Topeka's Municipal Menagerie.

Vags, drunks, dope fiends—the chaff of a city—one by one—a motley crew, the usual number of week-end petty offenders passed in review before Judge Yates in police court this morning. No color line there. The fallen scion of respected parents—the ragged beggar lined up with burly negroes from the foot of the town. One by one they were thrown into Judge Yates' hopper of justice and judgment was ground out.

Carl Skow, a week's growth of beard on his lean jaws, was the first to sit before the little green covered table before the judge's desk. Skow was pinched on a charge of vagrancy. It has been just a year since he was before the same desk. Skow told Judge Yates that he had been in Topeka only a short time and had worked when he was able. However, he was not definite enough in his story to suit the judge and he was fined $15 and paroled to leave town. He left the station carrying with him the threat that he would get the limit if he again appeared before the city bar of judgment and the friendly advice of Sergeant Sauls to head in one direction and keep on going.

Charles Cason, colored, was the second man to face the judge. He was up for drunkenness. He appeared so proud of the fact that he had not been in court since last fall that the judge gave him the minimum penalty of $5.

Kicked Aged Man?

The story of Clarence Anderson, a 17 year old youth followed that of the colored man. Anderson was charged with drunkenness and fighting. He said he works at the Santa Fe shops. An aged man appeared in court with him. According to the story of the old man, young Anderson accosted him near the East Sixth street viaduct and demanded a small sum of money. The request was refused. "Then," said the witness, "he knocked me down and kicked me. He hit me six times." Anderson denied the charge and refused to meet the story of the judge. "You," snapped the judge, "are knocking on the door of the penitentiary or reformatory." Following this was a lurid description of prison life that might have made a hardened criminal's hair stand on end. A verbal review of the dungeons, the lock step and march in striped suits was dangled before the boy's eyes. "You are fined $15," was the judge's verdict. "And after you get out of this you've got to change your ways or we will change your location."

Charles Anderson, another boy faced the green table as Clarence Anderson was led from the room. Charles was charged with drunkenness. A short time ago he was fined $20 on a similar charge.

What's the idea?" snapped the judge.

"Dunno," was the answer.

"It appears that you would just as lief work to pay fines as not," was the next comment from the bench. Anderson is a plumber's helper.

The prisoner was given a fine of $5 and a promise of the limit if he was before the court again in the next 60 days.

Charles Wallace entered a plea of guilty and was fined $5. He was charged with drunkenness. Joseph Kain was the last man to face the charge of drunkenness against him was dismissed.

Raid Alleged Opium Joint.

Will Minor, Andrew Clark, Charles Smith and Carrie Clark, all colored, are booked at the police station on a charge of being found in an opium joint. The four were arrested Sunday afternoon when a raiding party, composed of patrolmen and plain clothes men, led by Sergeant Sauls from headquarters swooped down upon a house at 108 Madison street.

A complete opium outfit was found at the place. The fact that the lamp and metal on the pipe was still hot when the police found the outfit was responsible for the charges of "found in."

Stole His Overalls.

The fact that he has lost several pairs of overalls from his barn at 919 West Eighth street recently, caused W. C. Harrington, a driver for the Royal Bakery, to lay in wait for the responsible parties Sunday night. Late in the evening two negro men entered the barn and seized the pair of overalls that Harrington had hung out for bait.

Turning they looked into the cavernous barrels of a double-barreled shotgun. Harrington backed them into the alley and told his wife to "phone to the police station. Before the police arrived the two made a dash for liberty. Harrington pulled the trigger of the gun and the neighborhood echoed with the roar. One of the negroes leaped high in the air but put on more speed when he hit terra firma again. He told the police just where the shot took effect. As the result they are looking for a colored man who finds standing up a pleasure.

WHY GO TO FRISCO

The World's Finest Horses To Be at State Fair.

Johnny Jones and Belle Beach Will Be Here.

Topeka will be a stopping place for exhibitors of the finest horses of the country en route to the Panama-Pacific exposition, San Francisco. Consequently the greatest horse exhibition in the history of Kansas fairs will be a drawing feature at the state fair, Topeka, September 13-17.

The horse show at Frisco will open September 30, and Prof. E. W. McCampbell of Manhattan, superintendent of the horse department of the state fair, Topeka, is authority for the statement that many of the finest horses of not only the west but the east will be exhibited here.

The famous five-gaited gelding, Johnny Jones, which made such a sensation last season, will be seen on the local grounds. The well-known high school mare, Belle Beach, owned by "Dinks" Parrish of St. Louis, will be shown at Topeka for the last time before being exhibited before the great throngs at the world's fair. This is the greatest high school mare the world has seen, according to Dr. McCampbell.

"Topeka is offering premiums in amounts equal to those offered at the Minnesota and Iowa fairs," said Professor McCampbell. "In fact, Iowa is the only fair west of the Mississippi river that offers as much money in the livestock department."

Special Purse of $1,000.

"The people of Kansas will have an unusual opportunity this year to see fine horses; a chance that will come because Topeka is a convenient stopping off point on the way to the Panama-Pacific exposition."

Professor McCampbell stated that a special $1,000 purse is being offered by the Kansas State Fair association for saddle horses. The horses probably will be displayed at the horse show Thursday night of the fair in front of the grand stand. The best five-gaited saddle horses of the country are expected to participate. Then there will be a $500 roadster purse—probably for Wednesday night.

Professor McCampbell has been in Topeka several days assisting Samuel E. Lux, general manager, in putting the final touches on the big 1915 premium list which will be off the press within a few days.

40 PERILED ON VESSEL

Passengers Rescued Just Before River Boat Sinks.

Winona, Minn., June 14.—Forty passengers of the excursion steamer Fronterac from LaCrosse, Wis., were rescued when the boat collided with the Burlington river bridge over the Mississippi river.

The boat sank in 12 feet of water.

FIGHT RAGING IN HAITI

No Definite Result in Bobo's Revolt to Oust President.

Cape Haitien, Haiti, June 14.—Government troops have occupied the villages of Milot and St. Suzanne. The troops stationed at Grande Riviere have been driven back to Lacombe. The fighting is continuing in the vicinity of Cape Haitien and news has been received here that the gunboat Nord Alexis has bombarded the rebels at Fort Picolet.

These are some of the developments of the first few days in the revolution which is being conducted by Dr. Bobo to oust President Guillaume. No definite results are yet in sight.

Athlete Wins High Honor.

Lafayette, Ind., June 14.—Harry B. Routh of Logansport, Ind., has been named by President W. E. Stone as the athlete of Purdue university who during the past four years attained the highest standard both on the athletic field and in scholarship. He will be awarded the conference medal.

POISONED HIMSELF AT 40!

Death by slow poison is killing many a man young in years who has made a fatal mistake of failing to understand the warnings of kidney trouble.

When you begin to lag in throwing off natural poisons that accumulate in your body, these warnings come in little twinges or stiffness across your back and hips. Irritation may be too frequent; you may feel tired in the morning when you should feel your best.

The best known remedy for these troubles is GOLD MEDAL HARRIS OIL SALT. This remedy has stood the test for more than 20 years since it was first produced in the ancient laboratories of Haarlem, Holland. It acts directly on the kidneys and bladder and gives relief at once, or your money will be refunded.

GOLD MEDAL HARRIS OIL Capsules are imported direct from Haarlem, and can be had at any drug store. Price 25c. 50c and $1.00. Accept no substitute.—Adv.
